Hunger crisis as use of Foodbank soars

A CHARITY providing emergency food parcels to hard-up households across Harlow is experiencing a huge surge in demand as Government welfare reforms begin to hit struggling families in the pocket.

Harlow Foodbank has warned of a growing crisis after seeing the number of people using its services rocket by 54 per cent this year - an increase of 92 people per month.

According to the charity, which has fed more than 8,000 people since its launch in April 2009, more than 60 per cent of referrals are due to some form of benefit change or delay.

And the organisation's director of community services, Gary Knott, told the Star the situation would only get worse over the next few weeks as families struggle to feed their children through the school holidays.

"In these challenging and difficult economic times more and more people are coming to the foodbank for help and support, especially when they are faced with higher shopping, fuel and utility bill charges," he said. "Many others have seen their benefits challenged and/or amended, which has had a major impact on their day to day lives."

"In the first four months of this year Harlow Foodbank has seen referrals increase by 92 people per month and to support this we now need over 3.5 tonnes of donated food each month."

Over the course of the last financial year the charity collected and distributed over 22 tonnes of donated food through its referral system. It now feeds an average of 264 people in crisis each month (201 adults & 63 children).

chris.moss@hertsexnews.co.uk

Suzy Stride, Labour's prospective parliamentary candidate for Harlow, branded the spike in referrals an "outrage".

"I have seen for myself what a great job the food bank does," she said. "However, I sincerely wish there was no need for foodbanks and that is why I will fight to get people a decent living wage."

"Many families in Harlow are facing a cost of living crisis every day. That is an outrage in 2013 and it is why I'm proud of Labour's promise of wages to keep pace with the rising cost of living."

Harlow MP Robert Halfon admitted the statistics were "worrying", but insisted the Government was working to minimise the impact of welfare reforms by speeding up the processing of claims.

"Increased use of food banks isn't just about Government policy," he said. "The price of food continues to rise, and the numbers of foodbanks have been increasing fast across Europe."

"Yet in difficult times the Government is doing everything it can to help with the cost of living. Changes to the personal allowance, for example, mean that households are on average better off by £582 this year."

Harlow Foodbank is currently looking for 500 people to donate £1 or more each month to support its work in the community. For more information call the charity on (01279) 724515.

Teen stabbed in late-night attack

THREE youths have been arrested after a teenager was stabbed in Harlow on Tuesday night.

The victim, who is believed to be from Harlow, was taken to Addenbrookes Hospital in Cambridge after sustaining what police have described as "serious but not life-threatening" injuries in the attack.

The incident happened in the Kingsland area at around 10.30pm.

A parcel of woodland at Abercrombie Way was cordoned off by police yesterday (Wednesday) as forensics officers combed the area.

An 18-year-old man and a 14-year-old boy from Harlow and a 14-year-old boy from Lincolnshire were arrested on suspicion of causing grievous bodily harm.

All three were still being questioned by officers at Harlow Police Station as the Star went to press.

Student nurses pick up awards

STUDENT nurses and midwives have been given a vote of confidence by Princess Alexandra Hospital's director of nursing after completing their training.

Professor Nancy Fontaine congratulated the group after they performed "exceptionally well" in this year's Anglia Ruskin University Innovation Awards, where new ideas are put forward to improve patient care.

One suggestion put forward by a midwifery student for the creation of a new emergency checklist is already being put into action at the hospital.

Professor Fontaine said: "We are doing all we can to improve the experience of patients and this latest team of students are already making a real difference."

Pictured with Professor Fontaine, left, is the latest batch of nurses and midwives to complete their training at the hospital.

Chef to stand trial for pub car park stabbing

A CHINESE chef accused of stabbing his Harlow neighbour three times in a pub car park will stand trial later this year.

Father-of-four Kamhung Lee (50), of Spring Hills, Harlow, denies inflicting grievous bodily harm with intent on Perry Hill (26) outside The Shark in Hobtoe Road in the early hours of June 1.

Lee, a British citizen who has been in the UK for 29 years, appeared at Chelmsford Crown Court on Monday. He entered his plea of not guilty through a Cantonese interpreter.

Judge Anthony Goldstaub remanded Lee in custody until the start of his trial, which is scheduled to begin in late October.

Mr Hill was stabbed twice in the stomach, sustaining damage to his colon and liver, and in the top of his thigh. He spent 11 days in hospital after surgery.

Retired GP dies in London bike crash

COLLEAGUES and patients of a former Harlow GP who was killed when his bike was hit by a lorry while cycling to work in north London have paid tribute to a "kind and caring doctor".

Dr Clive Richards (67), who worked at the Lister Medical Centre at Staple Tye for 33 years, died after going into cardiac arrest following the collision in Archway last Monday.

The semi-retired GP had been on his way to work at the Hornsey Rise GP group practice when the accident happened.

As news of his death reached Harlow, shocked former patients paid tribute to him on the Star's website and Facebook page.

Reader Patsy Dye said: "Such sad news - Dr Richards was our family GP."

CHRIS MOSS

chris.moss@hertssexnews.co.uk

"He was the very best GP - kind, caring and would listen to any health concerns you had. There are very few GPs like him - thinking of his family at a very sad time."

Jane Yell posted: "Just seen this - such sad news. He was the nicest GP I've ever had."

"I remember him when I was a child pulling up his chair close to me and talking to me!"

Liane Paul wrote: "Very sad to read about Dr Richards. He was my family's doctor for over 30 years at Lister Medical Centre. RIP" to a lovely man."

After leaving Harlow, Dr Richards was a GP at Hornsey Rise surgery for seven years before going into semi-retirement and working as a part-time locum a few months ago.

His former colleagues at Lister Medical Centre described him as a "dear friend and dedicated doctor."

Dr Miranda Roberts said: "He was a greatly respected colleague and a dedicated and caring GP to the Harlow community."

"This is a very sad loss felt by all his colleagues here at the practice. Our thoughts are with his family at this sad time."

Two years on and still no sign of the Enterprize Zone

SIR, On August 17 it will be two years since the Government green-lit the West Essex Enterprise Zone in Harlow. We were told this would support over 100 businesses, and 2,500-5,000 jobs.

A key element of the zone would be the old Nortel site in London Road, which was 80 per cent vacant and which includes two large, open-plan office buildings that could quickly, easily, and cheaply be refurbished for new tenants.

But in the two years since this was announced what has been achieved? How many new businesses and new jobs have been created because of the Enterprise Zone plans? Unfortunately, the answers are as obvious as they are disheartening.

When will the first new business move into London Road? When will the renovation of existing, usable buildings begin?

The LDO covering the old Nortel site has only just been approved and the one for Templefields has only just come out of consultation. The council is currently seeking to recruit a project director to lead the delivery of the Enterprize Zone and the role's responsibilities will include preparing the business plan.

What have they been doing for the past two years? Why has progress been so slow?

Silence isn't a solution if Kier want to resolve this dispute

SIR, As a local councillor I was shocked and angry over the decision by Kier Harlow to cease communication with the union over the pay day dispute.

When Kier first took over the contract one of the many commitments made was about treating staff with fairness and equality. To find that local Harlow workers are being denied a voice via the union is a step in the wrong direction.

Whilst I'm sure this decision was made well away from Harlow, can I suggest it in the best interest of good governance and business that Kier Harlow gets back around the table to resolve this issue with the unions. Silence isn't a solution or an option.

I urge those decision-makers to think again - or this could be the long goodbye of Kier in Harlow.

Mum left on the floor while we waited for an ambulance

LETTER OF THE WEEKCommunity allotment feedback has been nothing but positive

SIR, I would like to make a few points in response to the letters printed in the Star regarding the community allotment at Five Acres.

The area was previously unusable due to the disgusting amount of dog excrement (twenty-five separate piles on the day we started digging) that has always blighted the land. Should it come into contact with the eye it can cause blindness so this is a serious danger to local children.

Some of the land was also covered in years of bramble-growth, much of which extended into people's garages via gaps in the corrugated rooftops. People had been dumping all sorts of rubbish into those brambles for years, none of which was being removed by the council. There were also stinging nettles which couldn't be mown properly due to the uneven growth of bramble.

All this made the area a disaster zone for young children and hardly a pleasant experience for adults.

For clarity's sake, the bridleway itself has remained untouched by us; there remains ample room for council workmen to do their job and for horses to pass by, as they often do.

I set up our Facebook community page on the day we started digging the vegetable patch and we were helped on that day by a local teenager and by other children in the days that followed. The allotment - which has taken an incredible amount of people's time, money and effort - was always intended for the community; the assumption that it became such by default is rather insulting.

We've already delivered lettuces to local houses numerous times and shared tomatoes, strawberries and broad beans with people (mainly children) who've helped us as well as several passers-by, but for the most part we're still waiting for things to grow or ripen.

However, we hope to start cropping enough within the next week or two to hold an open day so that local people can come and see the plants in the polytunnels, taste some salad crops with a buffet or barbecue, and take some produce home.

We'll invite all Five Acres residents once we have enough produce to go around. In the meantime, please feel free to come and collect food while we water everything late evening - there are currently some courgettes and tomatoes ready and we should have a few cucumbers ready this week.

Finally, I can only apologise for the barbecue being left out during the early stages of creating the allotment. It basically fell apart and was left where it was so we could continue using it over the following weeks as we were often working all day and late into the evening.

I've honestly had nothing but positive feedback from everyone I've spoken to, whether local residents or passers-by simply making a comment on the changes taking place. The local children certainly love it.

frustrated as our family that it was taking so long to arrive.

This is not the first time we have experienced the inefficiency of the ambulance service. The same thing happened a couple of years ago when Mum was still in her own home. That time she lay on the floor for over five hours before help came.

Crack down on drivers who park on paths and crossovers

SIR, A lot of people have been writing letters to the Star about cars parking on paths and crossovers in Harlow. If the drivers have read the Highway Code, which is still part of the driving test, they will know that it is illegal to park that way.

It is very inconsiderate to disabled people and mums with prams and young children. It is up to the council or police to enforce the breach of this law. All the monies from the fines could be used to repair the paths and kerbs.

There's plenty for a traffic warden to do during the day

SIR, As a follow up to the suggestion of night-time traffic warden (Letters, August 8), I suggest a daytime one as well. They could be deployed at Bush Fair where people persist in parking/waiting on the both the road adjacent to the car park and also on the section of road by the zebra crossing and library.

Then why not do the same at Old Harlow, where people persist in parking on the bend at the car park entrance?

What a great atmosphere at Town Park film show

SIR, I would like to say a huge thank you to the Great Parndon Community Association for putting on the free big screen showing of Mamma Mia! at Harlow Town Park bandstand on Saturday.

Luckily this time the weather held out and I was amazed by the amount of people there, young and old, who created a party-like atmosphere, especially at the conclusion of the film where many got up to dance and sing.

This kind of late-night entertainment is something Harlow has been crying out for years, especially now as people do not have much money to go elsewhere in the town as well as some of the older generation who are served poorly by some of the club venues which all seemed to be aimed at teenagers.

We have many other events, including the country and western festival, Linkfest and a big screen showing of Grease in early September to look forward to.

Once again, thank you to the GPCA. I'm glad to see live entertainment is now in good hands in the town.

Alex Plumb

SIR, I am writing to say what a great evening was had at the showing of Mamma Mia! at the Town Park bandstand. It was lovely to see so many people there.

There were lots of families and it was a brilliant atmosphere. Thank you to the GPCA for the hard work they put in.

I would also like to thank the GPCA for letting the Friends of Pets' Corner have a bucket collection, which raised £160. Thanks to all who kindly donated

Care centre staff treated us with dignity and respect

SIR, It seems to me the Patridge Care Centre gets it in the neck all the time (Star, July 25).

My husband was cared for there with nothing but dignity and respect all the time from the staff. The night he died the staff could not have been more helpful to my family. Even when other sick people were calling out they did their jobs well.

The Care Quality Commission come in and sweep through with allegations, but do they think if they had more staff the job would get done better?

The CQC team should take their coats off and do some basic work, not criticise all the time.

Harlow MP blasts 'ruthless' Tesco

HARLOW MP Robert Halfon has branded Tesco "ruthless" after wading into the row over the supermarket giant's use of overseas workers.

The Tory backbencher was reacting to comments made by Labour's shadow immigration minister Chris Bryant, who accused the firm of failing to offer British workers equal employment opportunities.

The row was sparked in part by Tesco's decision to close its distribution centre at Pinnacles in Harlow and transfer operations to Dagenham.

Although Mr Halfon said he agreed in principle with Mr

Bryant's point, he claimed successive Labour governments had to shoulder the blame for creating a "mess of uncontrolled immigration and cheap labour."

"Years of uncontrolled immigration happened under [Labour's] watch and they also signed the EU directives that allowed big companies like Tesco to hire overseas workers on the cheap," he said.

"Saying that, it's clear to me that Tesco have acted ruthlessly, unfairly and quite disgracefully in their treatment of Harlow workers.

"Their attitude has been one of 'pile the money high, sell the workers cheap'."

But Labour PPC for Harlow Suzy Stride hit back, claiming she and former Harlow MP Bill Rammell had worked closely with trade union USDAW to protect workers' employment conditions.

"There have been problems with recruitment practices at the Tesco site for some years, and I - and previously Bill Rammell - have worked hard with USDAW to try to protect the employment terms and conditions of local workers.

"What we need from this Tory-led Government is action to protect workers - including stricter enforcement of the minimum wage."

Third time lucky for Aldi plans?

REGENERATION: An artist's impression of the proposed Aldi store in The Stow

PLANS for Harlow's long-awaited Aldi store were set to be rubberstamped last night (Wednesday) as revised proposals for a supermarket in The Stow went before Harlow Council's development management committee.

The German retailer was hoping it would be third time lucky after being forced to scrap its last two applications for the redevelopment of the former car showroom site on Howard Way.

Last December committee members turned down a second set of plans for the 900 sq m store and 70-space car park, citing its "failure to integrate" with the rest of the shopping precinct as the primary reason for their refusal to back the project.

This followed Aldi's withdrawal of its original plans for the site - which included a block of residential flats - in early 2010 after the firm declared the project "unviable" because of the downturn in the housing market.

But despite having to go back to the drawing board twice, the company has remained committed to The Stow.

In May this year it submitted its third and latest set of proposals, which have now been recommended for committee approval by the authority's planning officers.

Speaking to the Star this week, Aldi property director Adam Ward said: "We are very pleased the latest scheme is recommended for approval and hope the committee will grant planning permission.

"It was very disappointing the last application was refused and, whilst we didn't agree, we are committed to investing in The Stow and have worked extremely hard to overcome the refusal reasons and welcome officers' confirmation these have now all been fully addressed.

"We firmly believe the proposals will bring considerable benefits, including regenerating the site, much needed choice and competition, as well as creating 30 new jobs.

"We continue to be very encouraged by the overwhelming public support for a new ALDI at The Stow."

Police appeal over sex assault

DETECTIVES have released a CCTV image of a man from Harlow who they want to question in connection with an alleged rape in a Basildon nightclub.

The victim - an 18-year-old woman from Romford - claims she was sexually assaulted in a seating area behind the DJ stand at the Liquid nightclub in Festival Leisure Park between 1am and 2am on Sunday, June 30.

Senior investigating officer DI Chris Bradford said: "We are now concentrating on obtaining the identity and the whereabouts of the man through the release of a CCTV image which we have secured from the nightclub."

The man captured by CCTV is described as white, of slim build and approximately 5ft 11ins tall. He is thought to be aged in his early 20s.

At the time of the incident, he was wearing a blue checked-shirt, skinny jeans and thick, dark-rimmed spectacles.

Anyone with information is urged to contact detectives at the Rayleigh Sexual Offences Investigation Team on 101 or call Crimestoppers, on 0800 555111.

Barn Mead blaze suspect's bail extended

A MAN arrested in connection with the arson attack in Harlow which claimed the lives of a mother and her five children has had his bail extended until September 16.

The suspect, who has not been named by police, was arrested in May on suspicion of murder, attempted murder, arson and burglary following the fatal house fire in Barn Mead on October 15 last year.

Sabah Usmani (44) and children Hira (12),

Sohaib (11), Muneeb (9), Rayyan (6) and Maheen (3) all died after the blaze ripped through the family's end-of-terrace home. The children's father, Dr Abdul Shakoor, survived after jumping from an upstairs window to raise the alarm.

Last month Dr Shakoor returned to Abbotswood School - where his three sons were pupils - to unveil memorials dedicated to the memory of his wife and children.

Council leader calls for Kier 'strike' talks

star@hertsessexnews.co.uk

THE Labour leader of Harlow Council this week called on the management of Kier Harlow to hold urgent talks with local trade unions to head off the threat of strike action over a change to workers' monthly pay dates.

Cllr Mark Wilkinson has written to the company after the Kier Group announced it would change pay dates from the 15th of the month to 28th.

Union leaders said they feared further reviews of wages and conditions could be in the pipeline.

The Union of Construction and Allied Trades and Technicians sent out ballot papers to members urging them to support industrial action - including a walkout.

This week Cllr Wilkinson said: "I want to see this situation resolved urgently for the sake of both residents and the workers."

"I am concerned that strike action could lead to disruption to not only services Kier Harlow provide, like keeping the town clean and maintaining council housing, but also to its employees and their families, many of whom are also residents of the town."

"There needs to be local negotiation on this matter and discussions need to take place now with the trade unions to try and find an amicable resolution."

Kier employs more than 400 people locally and is responsible for the repair and maintenance of all council-owned homes as well as landscaping, hedge-trimming and rubbish clearance across the town. Its contract with the council is worth around £20m a year.

Steve Murphy, general secretary of UCATT, said: "Kier has failed to enter into meaningful negotiation with UCATT. The company's decision to impose this change without agreement means members now believe that undertaking industrial action

Hoedown in the park

THOUSANDS of stetson-wearing music-lovers flocked to Harlow Town Park on Sunday for one of the UK's biggest country and western music festivals.

Organised by The Harlow Country Music Centre in conjunction with Great Parndon Community Association, the free event featured the cream of the UK country music scene and attracted crowds of almost 3,000 people.

Fans came from all over the UK and Europe to enjoy what has become one of the top events in the UK's country music calendar.

Co-organiser Dave Ingold told the Star: "We were really pleased with how it went."

"We had another fantastic turnout, a great line-up and the weather was good. We really couldn't have asked for more."

is unfortunately their only option."

UCATT claimed the results of a consultative ballot showed its members were supportive of industrial action.

Mr Murphy added: "[Kier] need to rescind their decision to impose a change in the pay date and then get back round the table and negotiate."

But Kier said the move was designed to bring the site into line with the rest of the business.

A spokesman said: "The change is being made to align the monthly payroll process across the entire enlarged group and mirrors the procedure adopted by most comparable employers. We are committed to continuing to work with and consult the unions."

NEWS IN BRIEF

Teen arrested at Occasio House

A 17-YEAR-OLD was arrested on suspicion of affray following an incident at Occasio House in Harlow on Monday. Police were called to the building in College Square at around 4.20pm following reports of a large disturbance.

They arrived to find a man had sustained a minor head injury and arrested a 17-year-old youth on suspicion of affray and possession of an offensive weapon.

Knifepoint robbery in town park

A MAN was threatened with a knife by a robber after refusing to give him a cigarette. The 24-year-old victim was in School Lane at around 4.50pm on July 24 when he was approached by the man. When the victim refused to give him a cigarette, the suspect produced a knife and threatened him.

The man is described as white, aged in his late 20s and of slim build. He is about 6ft tall with light blonde hair and blue eyes, and was wearing a dark green shirt and purple trousers.

Warning to vet private tutors

PARENTS are being urged to ensure they take appropriate steps to check people offering their children private tuition are properly vetted.

The advice comes after an incident where a man who potentially posed a risk to children was giving martial arts classes.

DCI Paul Johnson from the public protection unit said: "If children are receiving tuition in any subject, sport or past-time, parents should ensure they check the person is suitably vetted."

"They may choose to ask to see their certificate from the Disclosure and Barring Service or consider making a Right to Ask application through police."

Next stop Hollywood for princess Sophia

HARLOW'S very own pint-sized pop princess has landed her first major Hollywood role after being cast alongside Johnny Depp and Meryl Streep in forthcoming Disney film Into The Woods.

Internet sensation Sophia Grace Brownlee - who became a YouTube hit after a video of her singing Nicki Minaj hit Super Bass attracted more than 40 million views worldwide - looks set to star as Little Red Riding Hood in the fairytale mashup, which is based on the Tony-award winning musical written by James Lapine and Stephen Sondheim.

The films has been pencilled in for release in December of next year.

Announcing the news on Sophia's official Twitter account (@PrincessSGB), her uncle, Lucas Brownlee, posted: "It's official, @PrincessSGB (Sophia Grace Brownlee) has landed the part of Little Red Riding Hood in the Disney movie Into The Woods, alongside Jonny Depp, James Corden, Chris Pine and Meryl Streep amongst others, out on Boxing Day 2014."

CHRIS MOSS

Realising the studio had yet to confirm the full cast, he later added: "Let the cat out of the bag a bit early on that one!"

The news that Sophia is set to join Hollywood's A-list caps an astonishing rise to fame for the tutu-wearing 10-year-old and her "hyepgirl" - eight-year-old cousin Rosie Brownlee.

The Old Harlow school-girls have become something of a phenomenon in the US since their YouTube video went viral, regularly appearing on comedienne Ellen DeGeneres's prime-time chat show and even scooping a coveted Teen Choice Award at the televised ceremony last year.

The video for their debut pop single - Girls Just Gotta Have Fun - was uploaded to the girls' YouTube channel in June and has already been viewed more than two million times.

Arson probe after fire at garage block

A BLAZE in a block of four garages in Harlow is being treated as arson.

Firefighters were called to the site in Copshall Close on Tuesday evening.

The incident commander reported that when crews arrived on the scene shortly before 6.30pm the buildings were well alight.

Firefighters wearing breathing apparatus and using two hose reel jets extinguished the blaze by 7.18pm.

A spokesman for Essex Fire and Rescue Service confirmed the fire had been started deliberately and an investigation is now under way.

Crops burned in field blaze

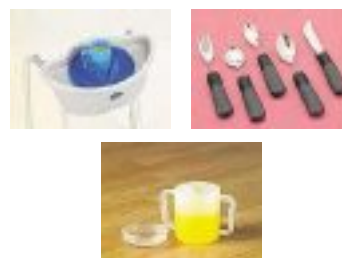

FIREFIGHTERS from Harlow, Epping, Ongar and Billericay were called to Thornwood last Wednesday afternoon to tackle a blaze in a field of crops. Crews used a hose reel and beaters to extinguish the flames, which covered an area of 10 square metres.

Daniel saddles up to help hospice

A TEENAGER from Harlow has been pounding the pedals to raise cash for the St Clare Hospice.

Daniel Adamson earned £100 in sponsorship from family and friends after he cycled from his home in The Hornbeams to Sawbridgeworth along the River Stort towpath and back again.

The Burnt Mill Academy pupil, who completed the ride with his friend Andrew, has already taken part in the Star-backed Midnight Walk twice and was inspired to organise his own event after hearing that one of his teachers was doing a sponsored sky dive.

"The ride was good - except for the bit where I went through the mud, clogging the wheels of my bike so I had to stop and clean it!" said Daniel.

Anna Baldwin, fundraising manager for St Clare, said: "It's always great to hear how youngsters are raising money for the hospice, especially when it is something as good for you as a bike ride."

Ambulance service stung by calls to insect bites

AMBULANCE service chiefs are asking people to think before calling 999 when they get bitten or stung by insects this summer.

The East of England Ambulance Service NHS Trust received 15 emergency 999 calls last Wednesday from people who had been stung by wasps or bees.

None of the calls were from people who had suffered a severe allergic reaction to the sting and no-one required transport to hospital or further treatment from ambulance crews.

Marcus Bailey, consultant paramedic for EEASt, said: "Most insect bites and stings, although they can be painful, are not dangerous and can be treated at home. In order to help reduce the volume of 999 calls and to improve the availability of ambulances to those members of the public who are suffering from serious illnesses and injuries, we're urging people to consider whether their sting is really an emergency.

"In the majority of cases, stings can be treated at home in the first instant.

COMMENT ON THIS STORY

www.harlowstar.co.uk

If your symptoms persist over several days then we'd advise you to contact your GP. Alternatively your local pharmacist may be able to advise you further on what treatment would be best for you."

EEASt has issued some basic tips on how to treat bites and stings at home in order to help reduce the 999 calls they receive on the issues.

Marcus explains: "To treat a bite or sting at home, try washing it with water and applying a cold compress to help reduce itchiness and swelling. For bee stings, you can remove the sting itself with tweezers. If it's painful, over-the-counter tablets such as antihistamines and paracetamol can help. There are also creams and sprays available at the pharmacist.

"Naturally there are some cases when someone will suffer a severe allergic reaction to a sting.

"If there is swelling or itching anywhere else on the body after being bitten or stung, or if the person is wheezing or have difficulty swallowing, they may need emergency medical treatment so it's vital in these cases that 999 is dialled as soon as possible."

Dog attack case halted after victim stays away

A WOMAN accused of setting a dog on a man in a Harlow street walked free from court after the alleged victim failed to turn up.

Emma Cooke (30), of Arkwrights, Harlow, was formally cleared by magistrates.

The court was told efforts to trace Mark Parrott came to nothing after police told the prosecution they did not have the manpower to make contact with him in time for the hearing.

Refusing a prosecution request for an adjournment of the case, chairman of the bench Lesley Long told Ms Cooke she was "free to go."

Ms Cooke's lawyer, Nicola Pope, had earlier told the court that he case against Ms Cooke was "a weak one." She said her client had taken part in an identification parade but had not been picked out.

She also said that allegations made in court were inadmissible.

"The Crown have not done their job in this particular case," said Ms Pope. "They had eight months to get their case ready and it is not.

"You are being asked to prolong a case and it is not in the interests of justice. She has been on bail for a very long time."

Prosecutor Shelley Deutsch told the court that police had been

contacted to try to find Mr Parrott and get him to court but said they had "no-one available" and could not give the court a time when they would be able to attempt to contact him.

Describing what was alleged to have happened, Miss Deutsch said that Mr Parrott had been walking along the street when two men and a woman with a dog turned round and one of the men "started on Mr Parrott."

He had asked if Mr Parrott was looking at him to which Mr Parrott replied he was not. However, Miss Deutsch said the man "continued to have a go."

She continued: "After the woman said 'let's go' the confrontation between the two men continued before the woman turned round and punched Mr Parrott in the face for no apparent reason.

"She then commanded the dog to bite Mr Parrott and it duly did. He suffered an injury to his head and had a bloodied bite mark on the top of his thigh.

"It was a totally unprovoked attack on someone who was walking along the street. The issue is one of identification."

Our search for the best of business

ENTRIES are flooding in for the inaugural 2013 Harlow Star Business Excellence Awards.

Since we launched the search for the companies which have stood out over the past year in Harlow's business community we have been inundated with nominations.

This is the first year of the awards, which are being run in association with the Harlow and District Chamber of Commerce.

The aim is to celebrate the great achievements of businesses - and there are many candidates in and around the town who continue to defy the economic downturn.

There are eight categories to choose from, ranging from 'Business innovation' and 'Business Growth' to 'Business of the Year' and 'Business Person of the Year'.

Star editor Ken Morley said: "Harlow is fortunate to have many successful businesses and their contribution to our thriving community cannot be underestimated.

"These awards are a chance to celebrate their successes and reward excellence."

Submitting a nomination could not be easier - and you can even nominate yourself. All you have to do is log on to www.harlowstar.co.uk/Business/Business-awards and complete the nomination form. The deadline for nominations is 11pm on Saturday, August 31.

A panel of judges will draw up a shortlist of potential award winners who will be invited to make a short presentation in support of their nomination.

The winners will be announced at a gala presentation evening to be held at the Manor of Groves Hotel in High Wych on Thursday, November 7, for which tickets are available to purchase for £45 each.

Send an email to karen.ball@hertsessexnews.co.uk for more details.

COMMUNITY NEWS

Masons give freely to two charitable causes

FREEMASONS in Harlow have donated £5,000 to two charities close to the heart of former lodge master Harvey Blake. The Lodge of Borrowed Light regularly raises money for charity and this year Mr Blake and his wife Sam have chosen Cancer Research UK and Harlow Stroke Support Group to receive £2,500 each. "My father-in-law has a stroke two years ago and the Harlow Stroke Support Group have really helped and supported him and my mother-in-law through difficult times," said Mr Blake. "I thought it would be nice to support a local group as well as a national group like Cancer Research UK." Jean Mylee, of the Harlow Stroke Support Group, said the charity was "very grateful" for the donations.

"The money that the Lodge of Borrowed Light has donated to us will go towards our weekly conversational groups and our social groups and we're very grateful for their donation," she said. "We have 180 members in Harlow so the money will help a lot of those people."

Robert's running to get kids going

A SPORTING enthusiast from Sawbridgeworth is limbering up for the BUPA Great North Run as he aims to help disabled children become more active.

Robert Ingoldby will be donating funds raised from his run to Get Kids Going, a charity which provides disabled children with bespoke sporting wheelchairs and grants.

"I really wanted to run to help disabled children and young people to get the equipment they need to play sport," said Robert. "I am hoping to raise £100 for Get Kids Going with my sponsorship."

Robert is part of a 400-strong team who will be pounding the pavements of Newcastle on September 15 in aid of the charity.

Volunteers sought to help repaint lock

THE Canal and River Trust is inviting people to help make Sheering Mill Lock shipshape for the summer.

The repainting work is part of the Trust's Towpath Taskforce volunteering project, which encourages people to get their hands dirty and help protect some of the country's most important industrial heritage and wildlife habitat.

The lock and railing painting will take place between 10am and 3.30pm today (Thursday) at Sheering Mill Lane, Sawbridgeworth.

All tools and equipment will be provided and volunteers are advised to wear old clothes. The teams meet regularly and are open to all ages and abilities, so people can take on more ownership of their local waterway.

Roads warning for V Festival crowds

MUSIC fans from Harlow who are planning to head for this weekend's V Festival at Hylands Park in Chelmsford have been warned to expect a raft of temporary traffic measures which are being put in place to deal with the crowds.

With 180,000 revellers expected to converge on the site, Essex County Council said the measures were in the interest of public safety and would reduce the impact that traffic entering and leaving the event has on the surrounding area.

County councillor Rodney Bass, cabinet member for highways & transportation, said: "The V Festival naturally it brings a lot more traffic to the area so it is important for us to ensure that effective traffic management measures are in place. These temporary measures help to aid the flow of festival traffic, and make sure disruption to local residents is kept to a minimum."

For full details of all the road changes visit www.essexhighways.org.

Lottery winners

THE winner of the £1,000 first prize in the St Clare Hospice lottery drawn on Friday, August 9 is ticket holder 635396 who lives in Loughton.

The £100 second prize was won by ticketholder 864792, who lives in Harlow.

Jazz singer hits the road for European fundraising tour

BIANCA CASTRO

bianca.castro@hertsessexnews.co.uk

A JAZZ singer and keyboard player has set off on a road trip from Harlow to the south of France in the hope of raising money for a charity helping Brazilian street orphans.

Soh Breezy (50), of Paringdon Road, has bought a motorhome especially for the trip and will be trying to get gigs along the way to raise money for Street Child - a organisation which helps homeless children from Brazil.

The musician, who has just finished recording debut album Black Night, said: "After attending a charity event for Street Child World Cup in Ealing I was inspired by their video showing the plight of homeless youngsters.

"I want to sing, play piano and perform. As it is hard to get a full diary of gigs for any musician, let alone jazz musicians, I thought it would be a fun challenge to see how many I could get for a charity when the little problem of being paid is removed and music can be performed for the love of it."

The charity, which helps bring homeless children together through football, will be staging its own version of the World Cup on the streets of Rio next year. "There are a hundred million homeless children in the world and an adventure for me could go a little way to helping these unfortunate children," Soh added.

"Whatever challenges I face on my trip will be nothing compared to what these children face every day.

"I think this may be a slow starter but I'm hoping it will gain legs - or wheels - and hopefully I'll raise more money once I return home. "We think of a home as a right and for these children it is a dream. So I'm going to give up my home for a while, get on the road and sing to anyone who'll listen."

in partnership with Princess Alexandra Hospital NHS Trust

PAH leading the way in Friends and Family Test

NATIONAL newspapers have been full of stories about hospital accident and emergency departments failing to reach a national target of treating 95 per cent of patients within a four-hour time period.

But Princess Alexandra Hospital is not only hitting the target regularly but has just finished top in the whole country for patients saying they would be happy for friends and family to be treated in the Harlow hospital's casualty department.

PAH has a very busy A&E that has been even busier during the recent spell of hot weather.

In June it achieved a score of 81 in the Government's 'Friends and Family Test', with a large enough patient sample to make it significant and lead the country for A&E results.

The Friends and Family score of 82 for the entire hospital, just released nationally, also put PAH among the frontrunners for all hospitals in the east of England.

The A&E result follows major reorganisation led by doctors and staff, who set about simplifying patient procedures, putting in one clear reception and took out four old-style cubicles.

Comfortable recliner chairs were also brought in for patients waiting for test and scan results.

The hospital trust backed building work and improvements to the tune of £500,000.

In an extremely busy A&E department it is hard to please everyone all the time, with more urgent cases rightly taking priority.

But it is reassuring that Harlow is now doing better than most.

Commuters' fury at rail price hike

COMMUTERS in Harlow were left wondering where they will find the extra money for their train fares next year after it was announced that ticket prices will rise by an average of 4.1 per cent.

The charges, to be implemented in January, will see some paying out more for their travel than their mortgage.

The cost of a standard monthly season ticket from Harlow Town to London Liverpool Street currently ranges from £282-£394. After the increase they could have to fork out an extra £192 a year.

Greater Anglia, which took over services on the Liverpool Street-Cambridge line through Harlow in February 2012, was named Train Operator of the Year last year.

But some rail users expressed their anger at the increase on social network sites Twitter and Facebook. @adamjames-smith1 tweeted: "They already price us out of using them regularly" while @camportland said: "Greater Anglia is awful as well".

And in a comment posted on the Star's website, dazza 1412 said: "Another good reason why I will not give up my car for public transport."

star@hertsessexnews.co.uk

The Trades Union Congress said the increases equated to a 40 per cent rise in prices since 2008 and claimed that fare rises were going into the pockets of the shareholders of private rail companies instead of being used to fund service improvements.

But according to the Association of Train Operating Companies, only 3p in every £1 spent on train tickets is profit.

Track and station maintenance account for 48p, staffing and train companies' running costs account for 17p each, 11p goes on leasing rolling stock and train fuel eats up 4p in every £1.

Transport Secretary Patrick McLoughlin said: "Running the railways is a hugely expensive business. The taxpayer overall is still putting in huge amounts of money and I'm afraid the passenger also has to make his contribution."

"We're driving up the levels of investment so people get more reliable train services and better facilities as well."

County Hall seeking views over spending

ESSEX County Council is encouraging residents to think about the financial challenges facing the authority - and the community as a whole.

The 'Your Essex, let's talk' campaign will feature a series of discussions and consultations between householders and politicians about the issues and services that matter to them.

It will help shape the authority's future priorities in the face of further funding cuts from central government.

County council leader David Finch said: "We want residents to engage with us and become more aware of the issues we face as well as take the opportunity to contribute to the decision-making process."

"We continue to work within a tough financial climate with demand for services growing and government funding decreasing. There are tough choices that need to be made and we need to make changes to the way the county council delivers its services. We will all need to do things differently and we want those who make up Essex to shape these decisions so that we make the best choices."

The council will be holding a roadshow which arrives at Harlow's Harvey Centre on Tuesday, August 27.

Comments can be emailed to youressex@essex.gov.uk, Tweeted using the #youressex hashtag (@Essex_CC) or left on Facebook at facebook.com/essexcountycouncil.

Global fashion as students hit the catwalk

STEWARDS ACADEMY Fashion took centre stage at the Parnall Road school as students held Stewards' first ever cultural fashion event in front of a packed audience.

A group of 70 students strutted their stuff on the catwalk, wearing a dazzling array of costumes from around the world in a fashion show organised by the Ethnic Minority Pupil Voice Group.

Event organiser Eman Mohamed, who teaches science at the school, spent a year planning the event and buying costumes representing countries from across the globe.

"This has been a huge undertaking and follows on from our firmly established and very popular annual cultural food event," she said.

"We are very grateful to the students from Harlow College who came along to prepare the model's hair and make-up and gave them that added wow factor."

"After the event's success, this will certainly be an annual fixture in our very busy calendar of culturally diverse events."

Students become published writers

BURNT MILL ACADEMY Year 7 and 8 pupils at the First Avenue school have seen their work published in a new anthology.

The book - the second that the school has published - features work from students who needed extra incentive with their literacy.

Author Steve Parker, who has written several books on science and technology and was the academy's writer-in-residence, held regular sessions with the students to inspire the pupils to get writing. The first print run of the book almost sold out at the school's end-of-year awards evening, where Mr Parker was a guest of honour.

English teacher Sarah Adenuga said: "The whole idea is to boost students' confidence and enthusiasm for writing. Their creative skills have flourished.

"The book is full of pieces of different lengths - some are stories, others are poems - all on the theme of sport. Some even wrote news reports to show writing doesn't have to be a boring subject and comes in many forms."

Graduation and goodbyes for nursery kids

RAINDROPS DAY NURSERY Staff at the Harberts Road nursery in Harlow celebrated the successes of those children who are leaving at a special graduation ceremony.

Parents were invited to the young graduates' send-off during which youngsters starting primary school in September were given a certificate after donning gowns and mortarboards. Staff members Corinna and Laura said: "The children celebrated their final day before moving onto big school."

"We threw them a fun-packed graduation party to say our goodbyes to the children, and parents, family members and carers were invited along, too.

"We had a ceremony where the children wore graduation gowns and hats and received a certificate from the nursery manager Chris Chaffe."

"The little ones were then surprised with a cake made by one of the staff, which went down a treat and was the perfect finish to a great day."

Pet owners wig out over kitty fashion

A WACKY designer has set tails wagging after launching a range of wigs that turn pets into pop princesses.

Dogs and cats can also be dressed up as dragons, pilots, wizards or even Prince Charming thanks to Leah Workman's crazy creations.

The 40-year-old, who lives in Los Angeles, spotted the trend for dressing up pets while studying in Japan - and later teamed up with husband Hiroshi Hibino to launch company Cushzilla.

The firm was an instant hit on the internet with its bonkers brand of pet fashion, which also features Sharon Osbourne and Lady Gaga

X-FACTOR: A cat models Leah's Sharon Osbourne wig

wigs and cow and tiger costumes. Leah imports the high-quality handmade wigs, while costumes come from famous Japanese pet clothing designer Takako Iwasa. She says her most popular wig is the Lady Gaga, while the pilot's outfit tops the bestseller list in the costume department.

Rutlemania as 'Prefab Four' play the Square

MOVE over The Beatles; The Square welcomes the greatest beat combo of all time on Wednesday when The Rutles roll into town.

Immaculately conceived in the feverish imaginations of Monty Python star Eric Idle and longtime collaborator Neil Innes sometime during the mid-70s, the prefab four went on to record peerless pop nuggets Gospe Step Mamma, Hold My Hand and unforgettable ballad Cheese & Onions.

They even appeared in a classic mockumentary - All You Need Is Cash - documenting their rise to fame and misfortune.

Although Eric won't be joining the band on their Harlow debut, expect the unexpected as original members Dirk Nasty (Neil Innes) and Barry Wom (John Halsey) plough through the band's impressive back catalogue - and throw in a few surprises to boot.

>>>The Rutles play The Square on Wednesday, August 21, at 8pm. Tickets cost £20 and are available from the box office by calling (01279) 305000 or logging on to www.thesquareharlow.com.

It's back: rock out in Town Park at Linkfest

chris.moss@hertsessexnews.co.uk

MAKE the most of the Bank Holiday break next weekend as live music extravaganza Linkfest returns to rock Harlow Town Park for the second time this summer.

The big brother to July's one-day event, the weekend-long festival boasts a packed bill of new and established local talent alongside a raft of top tribute acts, as well as sideshows, market stalls, refreshment stands and a fully-licensed bar.

Co-organiser Jamie Pring - who has put on the free event with help from Great Parndon Community Association, Harlow Rock School and The Square - said he hoped for an even bigger turnout than the 5,000-strong crowd who enjoyed Linkfest's first instalment a little over five weeks ago.

"We were absolutely thrilled with the number of people who came down to the park in July for the first event, but I'm hoping for an even bigger turnout for the main event next weekend.

"Obviously we were lucky with the weather last time around, but the amount of positive feedback we had from both the bands and the festivalgoers the first time around told us that we must be doing something right!"

Headliners next weekend include acclaimed tribute act Who's Who (Saturday) and renowned party band Anthem (Sunday). The bill also features local live favourites Me & Him, Fubar, Steve Forward, Archive, Sax On Fire and Portland Avenue, while a special guest slot goes to Echoland, winners of this year's Linkfest Battle Of The Bands.

"A lot of the bands on this year's bill will be familiar to local music fans; they're among the very best Harlow and the surrounding area has to offer," said Jamie, pictured above.

"We're really pleased to have got Who's Who as the main headline act on the Saturday - they're a fantastic tribute act who have built up a great reputation across the UK so we're very lucky to have them."

He added: "We're hoping to recreate the atmosphere of those big open-air concerts of the 1970s and '80s."

"Hopefully the weather will be kind to us. What better way to enjoy the Bank Holiday weekend than at a music festival in the Town Park?"

>>>Linkfest In The Park runs on The Bandstand in Harlow Town Park from August 24-25. The event is free to attend and audience members are welcome to take their own food and drink.

Ballroom dancers can't put a foot wrong

A SAWBRIDGEWORTH couple who were inspired to take up ballroom dancing after watching popular BBC television show Strictly Come Dancing have tasted success in a national competition.

Stewart Woskett and Louise Hollamby, who have only been competing for 12 months, wowed judges at the recent Dance Promoters' Association Bournemouth Summer Festival, scooping wins in four categories.

The couple, pictured right, were invited to compete in the two-day competition having finished in the top 12 for their category across the country for ballroom and Latin dancing in 2012.

On the first day they danced in the over 35s beginners' ballroom final, finishing in fifth place, before coming out on top in both the over 35s beginners' and novice Latin finals.

Stewart and Louise continued their winning streak the next day by emerging victorious in the over 35s beginners' masters ballroom and the over 35s novice masters Latin.

The wins mean that the pair are now recognised in the national league as the top couple in Latin beginners and novice for the 2012 over 35s category.

They are also placed fifth overall in the ballroom over 35s beginners' category nationally as a result of their performance in the competition.

The couple started dancing around four years ago after becoming fans of the television dance competition but only decided to start competing after their teacher, Lea Samantha Walsh, suggested they give it a go.

Stewart said: "We couldn't believe we won four finals and conquered a ballroom final months after being knocked out in the semis."

"It was the perfect end to our first 12 months competing."

Nurturing children's interest in wildlife

ADAM Frost has already urged people to think about wildlife at this year's RHS Chelsea Flower Show, but the gold medal-winning garden designer isn't done with his campaigning yet.

He is now urging parents to get their children into the great outdoors this summer and help reverse the decline of British wildlife.

The State of Nature report, carried out by a coalition of conservation organisations, recently revealed that 60% of British wildlife is in decline, while at the same time, a further research found two thirds of British school children want to be taught more about gardening and to engage with the outdoors.

"I have four children aged between six and 16, who all have a keen interest in nature," says Frost, who designed the Homebase 'Sowing The Seeds Of Change' garden at the RHS Chelsea Flower Show. "The garden is at the heart of our home, where many memories are made while children are growing up.

"I've spent lots of time with my own children both in my own garden and in the wider countryside. We do things together like going on country walks, growing and picking fruit and bird spotting – the list is endless."

Encouraged by these thoughts, Frost has now come up with a plan for parents on how to bring their children into the garden and to attract wildlife at the same time.

■ Create a planting plan. Mix together plants that are both beneficial to people and wildlife, such as fruits, vegetables and herbs, with shrubs and perennial herbaceous plants, to create an area where there is produce for humans and wildlife. Recommended plants that attract wildlife include sunflowers, wild strawberries, thyme, herbs and firethorn shrubs which offer nectar and berries to a range of wildlife.

■ Grow a selection of salad crops. This requires regular attention and will give children something to focus on right up until they eat them. Seeds should be watered every evening and given plant food once a week. Lettuce and other salad leaves can be sown in spring and summer.

■ Go seed collecting. Look closely for plants in your borders where flower heads have fallen off and seeds are growing. If the seeds are brown, get the children to help you pick them and put them in a warm place to dry out ready to plant for next spring.

■ Create a compost heap. This is a great way of encouraging kids to recycle garden waste and also helps them understand the natural cycle of growth and decay. Create three tightly fixed walls in your chosen area and begin filling it with organic materials such as grass clippings, weeds, straw, manure, shredded newspaper, kitchen waste, plant cuttings and soft prunings.

■ Take games outdoors. Go on a treasure hunt or play hide-and-seek to encourage children to explore the garden and stimulate their curiosity about the outdoors. If you have daisies in the garden, teach them to make daisy chains.

ON THE WEB

Gardening tips and news

www.harlowstar.co.uk

■ Set up bird feeding and cleaning stations. Birds come to gardens to feed, breed, nest and rest. To make sure your garden is accommodating, introduce a bird house, feeding station or a bird bath – all of these are a must for budding young bird watchers. The water in a bird bath needs to be at least 2.5cm deep and should be placed in the open away from areas where cats may hide.

■ Store logs. Plenty of wildlife makes its home in dead wood, and other animals use it as a source of food. Children can help make this into a proper wildlife shelter in a small, shady spot so that it remains cool and damp. If moving wood, check beforehand that nothing has already made itself at home.

Families can receive further help on how to encourage wildlife into their garden by visiting the Homebase online forum www.getintogardening.co.uk.

Comic book sequel is packing quite a punch

also new this week

KICK-ASS 2

certificate 15, 1h43m

KICK-ASS and Hit-Girl are back for more action in Mark Millar's comic book sequel, which packs more of a punch than the first film.

Now directed by American Jeff Wadlow, this follow-up to the 2010 movie is ramped up with darker humour, more swearing and more violence.

Set four years after the first film, our favourite characters have grown up. Now 18 and close to finishing high school, Dave Lizewski (Aaron Taylor-Johnson) is keen to bring his green figure-hugging Kick-Ass suit out of the closet, while Mindy McCready (Chloe Grace Moretz), who sneaks out of school to bust drug-dealers, is being urged to forget her superhero sideline as Hit-Girl and be a normal teenager following the death of her father Big Daddy (Nicolas Cage).

Mindy trains Dave up with her extensive arsenal of weapons - guns, star knives and katanas - but soon her guardian Marcus (Morris Chestnut) advises her to stay in school and give up the Hit-Girl lark, leaving Dave on his own.

After enlisting the help of his buddy Marty (Clark Duke) he finds Justice Forever, a group of wannabe vigilantes run by ex-mobster Colonel Stars And Stripes (Jim Carrey). By day they are normal, everyday citizens but at night they exact revenge on criminals.

Chris D'Amico (Christopher Mintz-Plasse) is vowing vengeance on Kick-Ass and Hit-Girl for his father's death by bazooka. This time, he puts aside his superhero alter-ego Red Mist to become a super-villain with the most Twitter followers.

While he gathers his evil gang together,

Mindy tries to deal with high school life, attempting to fit in with the cool group at school, attending girly sleepovers and trying out for the cheerleading squad.

But there's only so long she can ignore her Hit-Girl tendencies and it's only a matter of time before she gets back on her purple Ducati and returns to her violent, feisty roots.

Fans of the original will be glad that Kick-Ass 2 is a faithful sequel, although some of the darker references in the comic book have been taken out following the shooting tragedies in Aurora, Colorado, and Sandy Hook, Connecticut.

FASTEN your seatbelts and settle into your seat because this is one ride into the skies you will really enjoy.

Disney's latest animated adventure is a spin-off from Pixar's Cars series. Made by DisneyToon, Planes was originally due to be a straight-to-DVD release but it was given the passport to fly onto the big screen after film bosses were impressed with the completed sequences.

The classic underdog story follows Dusty Crophopper (Dane Cook), a crop duster who applies fertiliser at a cornfield but harbours hopes of competing alongside his high-flying heroes in an international race.

Dusty decides to enter for qualifiers in the Wings Across The World competition under the moniker Strut Jetstream and, despite being mocked for his lack of racing ability, he makes it through to the race with his flight manoeuvres.

After admitting he is scared of heights, Skipper Riley (Stacy Keach) trains Dusty to make the most of his speed and agility while Dottie (Teri Hatcher) ensures his parts are all up to speed for optimum performance.

At the start of the race Dusty becomes friends with Mexican race-plane El Chupacabra (Carlos Alazraqui). Attracted to Indian racer plane Ishani (Priyanka Chopra) and befriending British racer Bulldog (John Cleese), he also finds a rival in three-time winner Ripslinger (Roger Craig Smith), who dismisses him as a "farmboy" and sets out to sabotage his chances of winning.

As the participants jet across the world from New York to Iceland, Shanghai and Mexico, Dusty has to overcome many obstacles as well as his fear of heights while learning about the true meaning of friendship.

But neither Bobby nor Stig know that the other is also working as an undercover government agent, having given each other made-up backstories. When their identities are discovered, Bobby and Stig give each other both barrels and fall out in spectacular style.

Going alone doesn't yield the results either was looking for and when they're disowned by their bosses, Bobby and Stig work must together as brothers-in-arms to bring down the cartel and clear their own names which have been sullied by their swindling superiors including Stig's nemesis, Lieutenant Quince (James Marsden).

Tracey Waples Property Editor

IT'S A-Level results day today. After many months of hard work followed by a long, nerve-wracking wait, students all over the country will know the outcome of those dreaded exams.

I remember only too well when it was my turn and my thoughts go out to anyone who is going through it today.

It's rather timely, then, that Savills has published the latest edition of its Residential Property Focus, a quarterly research publication, which says its synopsis of the housing market this quarter reads rather like an end-of-term school report.

'Could do better' and 'room for improvement' are just some of the observations.

The publication points out that despite the increasing signs of activity and positive price growth in the first half of 2013, the undeniable fact is that the housing market has not so much underperformed as simply not functioned for the last five years.

Despite talk of an artificially-induced housing boom, with the Government's Help to Buy scheme and other measures, it does appear as if, real growth is some way off. As Savills spokeswoman Yolande Barnes points out: "We are still far from a housing market boom, although the next three years may look like a mini boom in relation to the last five."

Living as close to London as we do, it is easy to be swayed by performance of our city cousins. The prime central London market has seen dramatic growth over the last three years, but it is important to remember that London is a different market.

We may be influenced by it but will not perform in the same way. Our local property market is getting better but like today's A-Level students, while we might be hoping for straight A's it's important to manage expectations.

Historical home for £849,995

DATING back to 1849, The Old School in Churchgate Street has been magnificently and sympathetically restored by the current owners.

Centrally located, the property is well protected by mature high hedging and is just a short walk from local shops and the mainline train station at Harlow Mill.

On the ground floor is a stunning hall with a bespoke staircase leading to the first floor and galleried landing. There are four bedrooms and the main sitting room has views to the front and rear of the property.

There is also plenty of parking and a car port at the front. Howick and Brooker on (01279) 418888 can arrange a viewing.

Handy location for £219,995

THIS terraced property in Miles Close, Harlow, is within easy distance of the town centre and train station.

The house is laid out over three storeys and has four bedrooms, with a ground floor cloakroom and a large lounge diner with French doors leading out onto the garden.

The rear garden is enclosed and requiring little or no maintenance. From the French doors leading off the lounge there is a covered decked area with steps to a raised feature garden laid to stone with a variety of shrubs and plants and a further decked area.

Genesis Property Services on (01279) 422422 has this property on its books.

Contemporary style for £299,995

AT Brickcroft Hopbit on the the Newhall development in Harlow, this detached house is particularly stylish with elegant interiors and contemporary appeal.

The property is situated within close proximity to woodland and recreational areas as well as Church Langley shopping precinct.

There are three bedrooms - with an en-suite to the master - an open-plan kitchen and dining room.

There is a landscaped rear garden and also a secluded courtyard garden at the front, as well as off-street parking.

Contact Intercounty in Harlow on (01279) 639666 to arrange a viewing.

Great family home for £430,000

SITUATED in Denby Grange at Church Langley, this spacious and well cared for detached house is an ideal family home.

There are five double bedrooms with an en-suite to the master, a ground floor cloakroom, lounge, dining room

How Long Has It Been On The Market?

One of the first things a buyer will ask an estate agent when offered a property is "How long has it been on the market?", and with good reason. Buying a property is a large transaction and it takes courage to commit to undertake such an apparently huge decision - often with very little support other than pure instinct.

One of the most persuasive and apparently reliable indications as to the suitability of a property is to check out whether other people have expressed an interest. There is great comfort in knowing that you are not the only one who would like to buy the property.

Once people hear that others have expressed an interest, then everyone seems to want the property, as the power of 'social proof' kicks in. This competition can often stimulate a quick sale at a high price, and usually occurs when a property is attractively priced in relation to other properties available for sale and is new to market.

Of course the opposite is also true. When the price of a property is overly ambitious, the excitement that should surround a property that is new on the market is reduced, and it can begin to go stale. This is when nobody has made an offer and the property is seen to be repeatedly advertised. When buyers find out that it is no longer new on the market they think "Well nobody else wanted it - perhaps we are making a mistake."

So our advice would be to position your property as one of the best available in its price range from day one. This will prompt interest and encourage asking price offers from qualified buyers. Under your agent's advice, you should then have a choice of buyer, resulting in a fast, reliable, sale at the highest price the market will pay.

BY MATT KIMBERLEY

THE Fiat 500 is a brand in its own right. Arguably in some ways the 500 badge transcends Fiat itself - and the Italian firm isn't daft: it's spreading that name around new models to capture some of the 500's verve.

Here's the next stage of the 500 family expansion: the 500L MPW. You have to wonder whether there were a few wayward translations on the road to naming it, but one of Fiat's names for it is the "Magic Power Wagon".

Joking aside, the 500L MPW has an extra 20cm grafted onto the same chassis as the standard 500L, giving it enough boot space for two occasional-use rear seats. They don't come as standard but can be added for an extra £800 or so to create what Fiat calls a 5+2 layout.

The legroom in the two rearmost seats is tight and they're best reserved for the smallest children in the car. They also reduce the five-seater version's 560-litre boot space by 70 litres when folded flat. With them raised the remaining luggage space is negligible, as

Fact File

Fiat 500L MPW 1.6 MultiJet II Lounge

TBC

ENGINE: 1.6-litre four-cylinder diesel producing 104bhp
TRANSMISSION: 6-speed manual driving front wheels
PERFORMANCE: Maximum speed 112mph, 0-62mph 12.2s
ECONOMY: 62.8mpg
CO₂ RATING: 117g/km

with most seven-seat cars.

This is the smallest seven-seater you can buy at just 4.35 metres long and 1.78 metres wide (excluding the mirrors). Its high roof and shoulder line make it look bigger than it is, but you're certainly glad of the slimline dimensions when it comes to urban driving.

It's surprisingly nimble as you dash into side streets and to be honest it doesn't feel like a people-carrier at all - until you fill it with screaming kids.

While the third row of seats is cramped, there's much better news from the middle bench seat. There's acres of space for heads, shoulders, knees and toes, with a driver of more than six feet leaving plenty of room behind him even for adult legs.

The seats are unusually soft and comfortable in an age of increasingly firm padding and despite the rather odd-looking 'inscription' style upholstery graphics, the front five seats are very likeable.

Similarly, the chunky steering wheel with 'squirrel' design leather and the solid ancillary stalks behind it.

The clutch for this 1.6-litre diesel model is sprung just heavily enough to offer appropriate resistance but lightly enough to make low-speed ratio-shuffling a breeze for your left leg. The gearshift itself is notchy - more so than some rivals - and takes a slightly firmer and more committed push to locate a cog in the widely-spaced gate.

Any family car needs to be practical and the 500L MPW delivers in spades. There are upper and lower glove boxes, and although the former's lid hinge mechanism is a little primitive, together they offer loads of storage space. On top of these two are shelves and bins of various shapes and sizes that would be fit for loose change, receipts and gadgets.

Not so practical on this higher-spec Lounge model is the fact that you can't see the cruise control stalk because it's behind the steering wheel. It's not difficult to use 'blind' but it does take a bit of trial and error.

This 104bhp 1.6-litre diesel engine is hardly a powerhouse but it does offer useful punch from around 1,900rpm on the stylish rev counter up to about 3,200rpm. Given that it was almost brand new during the test, you can expect it to loosen up a little at both ends of the rev range as the odometer spins on.

There's a more powerful 1.6 diesel but it's best to avoid the low-powered 1.3, which really struggles to pull the MPW's mass.

The 500L MPW, silly names and small flaws aside, has an endearing quality about it. It does a job and it feels cheerful, which makes it a relaxing and pleasant car in which to take the kids to school, parties or the beach.

Like the 500 hatchback it's highly customisable and handy touches like the movable boot floor, in-boot hooks, additional 12-volt charging sockets and large tailgate lip 'seat' make it a real-world star.

End of the road for your vehicle?

Responsible drivers scrap their vehicles at an Authorised Treatment Facility (ATF).

Because only an ATF can legally scrap a vehicle. That means any pollutants will be made safe before it's recycled in an environmentally friendly way.

What's more, for certain types of vehicle you'll get a DVLA approved Certificate of Destruction (CoD). A CoD proves that the ATF has told DVLA your vehicle has been scrapped and so is no longer your responsibility. www.direct.gov.uk/motoring

Your CV

When you send your CV off to a potential employer, remember that you won't be the only one. Hundreds of other people could be applying for the job as well.

So what are you going to do to make you stand out from the crowd? Why should an employer take a chance on you instead of someone else?

Your CV is your first real chance to sell yourself to a potential employer. Most employers will scan through a CV in about 30 seconds so you need to grab their attention from the start - and make them want to invite you for an interview.

There are five main areas to consider when writing your CV:

- Make sure your CV looks the part. Your CV should look clean and tidy - don't scrawl it out on a piece of A4 paper. If you haven't got access to a PC or printer, ask a friend or use your local library. Use a good quality paper and steer clear of fancy borders and front covers.
- Watch out for silly spelling and grammar mistakes. They make you look lazy and show employers that you don't really care. It's not difficult to do a spell check on your PC and if you're really stuck then don't just guess, reach for a dictionary. Get a friend to read through your CV for you - a second opinion is always useful.
- Make sure your CV is well organised. When you list your previous jobs, make sure the dates are correct and try not to leave any gaps. If you took time out to go travelling then say so - employers won't mark you down just because you've tried something new.
- Don't waffle. Remember that employers don't have time to read every word of your CV. Long paragraphs and sentences put people off, so try bullet-points to break up text. Make sure your CV is no longer than two pages long - employers don't want your life history, they just want to see that you've got what it takes to do the job.
- Don't list any failures. Employers have enough trouble finding someone who is right for the job - they don't need help finding reasons not to employ you. If you have to include a mistake from your past, make sure you show the employer that you learnt something from the experience.

Keep it simple

Personal details

Start off with your full name, address, home and mobile phone numbers and email address. If you are offered an interview, the employer will want to get hold of you so give him as many options as possible.

Summary/professional profile

This is the No1 area for selling yourself. Set out your main skills and personal qualities but keep it interesting and tight - one paragraph should do to cover everything.

Education and qualifications

List your qualifications and education history, with the most recent first. You don't need to list the grades for each exam you have passed unless they were exceptional results - simply listing the number and type of exams you've passed is fine. Also, list any relevant professional organisations you belong to and training courses you have been on.

Work experience

Start with your most recent position and work backwards, giving addresses along with start and finish dates. Set out your main responsibilities, duties and most importantly achievements, along with any skills you picked up or improvements you made while you were there. This is a really important section in your CV so make it count - but don't waffle.

If you have not had a full-time job before, detail any part-time jobs you may have held or any placement you have been on.

Other skills

Set out any computer skills you may have and the software you are most familiar with. Can you type, do shorthand or speak a foreign language fluently? If you have a driving licence, let the employer know. If it's clean, tell them.

Interests & hobbies

Briefly list what you get up to in your spare time. Put down any positions you hold in clubs or associations, along with any responsibilities and achievements.

References

Make sure you have at least two people (including one from your previous or current job) who will tell an employer what a thoroughly nice person you are and what a potential asset to the company you would be.

If you want to list them now make sure you include their name, job title, postal & e-mail address and contact phone numbers. Alternatively, just put "Available on request" so the employer knows to follow up references at a later date.

Add a covering letter

The main aim of a covering letter is to encourage an employer to give you a chance. You want them to read your CV, so sell it to them. You should always enclose a covering letter when applying for a job - most employers won't consider you unless you do.

A covering letter should let the employer know why you are interested in the job and why you think you can do it.

The hints and tips below should point you in the right direction:

- Keep it simple. A covering letter should be short and to the point - no more than six paragraphs.
- Mention the job. If you are replying to an advert, mention what the job is and where you saw it. The company may be advertising for other positions and it may not be clear which job you are applying for.
- Sell yourself. Explain why you are the perfect candidate for the job. Show off your strengths and experience. Refer to your CV - if it goes missing then at least an employer will know that you've sent it.
- Check it for mistakes. A silly spelling mistake in a covering letter is likely to cost you your chance of getting an interview. Also, make sure it is addressed to the right person in the right department.

A covering letter can be just as important as a CV in getting you an interview. It's your first point of contact with your potential employer - so make it count.

Steel shines for England at Euro Championships

BASKETBALL player Josh Steel has been playing for England Under-16s in the European Championships in Sarajevo.

England had their three game winning streak ended by the Slovenians on Sunday, suffering a 72-70 loss in the Bosnian capital.

However, the team will still advance to the 1st-8th place classification games in Division B.

England are currently top of Group B with a 3-1 record, but after the Slovenia-Romania game on Monday they will finish second no matter the result.

However, Slovenia reeled off 12 straight points and the next England score was a Steel lay-up near the buzzer.

Steel had a solid outing with 18 points and seven rebounds, while Aidan Gastaldi-Davies went 4/7 from three to finish with 14 points.

England had a two days' rest before beginning the second round of matches yesterday (Wednesday).

HARLOW Greyhound Stadium selections for tomorrow (Friday August 16): 7.30 Kerry Said Bob; 7.51 Bulletproof; 8.12 Swift Kasha; 8.33 Black Master (NB); 8.54 Yeneed Spirit; 9.16 Sahara Gem (NAP); 9.38 Soviet Rooney; 10.00 Sahara Comet.

Success is on tap at Bath

A QUINTET of medals were claimed by members of the Harlow Rhythmic Gymnastics team at the Bath national invitational competition.

There was an amazing performance from Shannon Faller (13), competing in the junior event.

She was rewarded with the overall silver medal after winning the silver medal for clubs and fifth place certificate for ball.

Jemma Lawrence (14) sealed the silver medal for hoop and Paige McArdell (13) placed 11th with ball, also in the junior event.

Shining in the under 12 competition, Emma Oakes (10), won the gold medal in rope.

She claimed a fifth place certificate on hoop and was awarded with the overall bronze medal.

In the same event, Millie Smith (11) placed 9th for rope, 8th for hoop and 8th overall with team-mate Amelia Anastasi (10), receiving the fifth place certificate on rope, 14th place in hoop, finishing in 10th overall.

Competing in the under-10 event, Philippa Museva (8) finished 9th in free, 11th in hoop and 10th place overall.

Due to an issue with the scoring, the competing gymnasts did not receive their final scores on the day.

The medals and certificates have now been issued to Harlow Gymnastics Club and the gymnasts will be presented with their awards at a special event.

Coaches Jenny Craigie and Zoe Oakes said: "A good day was had by all and they were very proud of their gymnasts' achievements at such a high level competition."

Canaan in cruise control to smash champs record

FOURTEEN-year-old Canaan Solomon smashed a record at the South of England Inter-Counties Championships with a thrilling performance in the 1,500metres.

The Mark Hall School student, representing Essex, broke a record that had stood since 2000 when winning the Under-15 boys race in a super-fast time of 4 minutes and 10.07 seconds.

Canaan took the lead from the gun which he extended throughout the race to win by an astonishing 50 metres from Kent athlete Thomas Kendrick at Hendon.

Sixteen county champions competed in the high-quality field.

His Essex coaches believe Canaan is a top talent and could following the footsteps of Harlow Olympian Andrew Osagie.

"This result will give Canaan the confidence he needs going into the winter programme as he will be challenging for honours in the big championship races over the country," said Essex coach John Stow.

Canaan can now look forward to attending a young athletes camp at Twickenham run by Osagie's coach Craig Winrow.

NEW RECORD: Canaan Solomon

This season Canaan has run 4:03.29, a time that ranks him sixth on the UK all time list for U-15 boys, two seconds quicker than the time of Olympic double gold champion Mo Farah when at this age.

Canaan's Mark Hall School mate Jodi Ratcliff (14) also represented Essex. This was in the U-15 girls 1,500m where she placed 10th out of 16 starters in 5:09.

Meanwhile, in the Eastern Young Athletes League meeting, Harlow Athletic Club competed at Southend on Sunday.

In the U-13 boys, Edward Broad won the A-string javelin (31.67m).

Lewis Harknett (A string) was second in the 1,500m (5:06.1) and fifth in the 100m (15.3s).

In the A long jump he was sixth (3.80m) in a new personal best (PB).

His twin brother Owen Harknett was fourth in the A 800m (2:41.5) and fifth in the A 200m (32.7s).

In the U-15 boys, Shermar Boldizar won the B 100m (12.7s), recording a PB.

He also clocked a best in the B 200m for third (25.80s).

Callum Burton was fifth in the A shot put (8.98m) and discus (19.88m), and fourth in the B javelin (21.24m).

Kieran Bull was second in the B discus (18.72m) and third in the A javelin (16.58m). He clocked a non-scoring 200m time of 31.25s for seventh.

In the U-17 boys, Will Marklew had a great day winning the A javelin (46.77m, PB), A high jump

(1.72m, PB) and claiming third in the A discus (22.33m, PB).

Mohammed Tambadou was third in the A 100m (12.3s) and second in the A long jump (5.36m, PB).

Corey Harrison was second in the B long jump (4.78m).

Joe Bailey was fourth in the 400m (54.4s PB) and the A 200m (26.0s, PB).

Don Campbell was fourth in the A 1,500m (5:01.3).

Ashley Rich was fourth in the A triple jump (9.76m, PB), second in the B 200m (27.1s) and fourth in the B 100m (13.6s).

In the U-13 girls, Madeleine Blackburn was 7th in the A 200m (33.8s), 6th in the A long jump (3.52m, PB) and 5th in the A 800m (2:51.8).

Zoe Rutter was 4th in the 1,500m (6:05.3, PB).

In the U-15 girls, Katie Champion was 2nd in the 800m (2:40) and 5th in the A shot (5.41m, PB).

Ellie Williams was 5th in the A 75m hurdles (14.9s) and 2nd in the A discus (17.71m, PB).

In the U-17 girls, Amie Hunt was 4th in the A 100m (14.2s) and 4th in the A 200m (28.6s).

Stunning win a drop boost

HARLOW'S survival hopes were given a huge boost by a stunning two-wicket victory at Hadleigh & Thundersley in the Shepherd Neame Essex League division one on Saturday.

The hosts batted first and Simpson and Rowe built a 147-run partnership before the latter was caught on the boundary for 56.

Simpson made a chanceless 120 before falling to Tom Ryder.

Hadleigh declared on 275-4. Monger and Ryder took two wickets apiece.

Knowing victory was crucial, Harlow skipper Luke Heskett gambled and moved Ahmed Khawaja up the order to open the batting.

This paid off as he hit a stunning century, enjoying a 129-run partnership in just 26 overs with opening partner Conor Ramsay. Ramsay was caught in the deep for a brilliant 58.

Tim Lowes and Richard Revell inspired a Hadleigh comeback as Harlow lost five wickets for 38 runs.

However, Andy McGarry held the tail together making 11 not out while youngster Lloyd Sykes hit three boundaries in eight balls, finishing on 14 not out to complete a stunning win with 8 balls left (277-8).

"Our bowling and fielding was way below standard but the batting was just brilliant. The opening pair were stunning, one of the best partnerships I have seen at the club and both played a massive part in the victory. Andy showed his experience and Lloyd showed no fear to bring home the bacon so good on the lad," said Heskett.

The skipper knows Saturday's home match against Orsett is now crucial. "A victory could take us within just a few points of them and safety where-as defeat will leave us 40 points adrift again, it's like a cup final for us. The guys will be up for it and a similar performance is needed to get this vital victory which I have every confidence we can achieve."

Top tonic for Town

SKIPPER Ashley Alderson praised his side's 'best performance of the season' as Harlow Town put a massive dent in Old Parkonians' promotion hopes with a four-wicket win in division three of the Shepherd Neame Essex League.

Alderson said afterwards: "Today we showed how good we can be. That was the best team performance we have had all season against a strong Old Parks side. Everyone contributed with the bat and the fielding display was brilliant."

Town won the toss and bowled first on a green wicket at Old Parks' ground.

Town were superb in the field. Shubhang Mehta made a very good 50 before he was eventually bowled by Shaun Alderson.

Old Parkonians scored 205.

Shaun Alderson was the pick of the bowlers for Town, claiming three wickets off 10 over for just 31 runs.

In reply, Matt Hurley hit a rapid 37.

Town required 110 runs with seven wickets in hand when the game entered into the final 20 overs with Ramya Upadhyay and Scott Alderson at the crease.

Upadhyay matched his performance with the bat last week and went about chasing down the total with a sensible batting display.

Wickets still fell but when the experienced Pat Yates was caught for 15, Town only needed 10 to win.

Upadhyay ended the game on 65 not out and Town won with three overs to spare.

Alderson added: "On Saturday we play run away to leaders West Essex, which will be a tough game. If we perform like we did today then we have every chance of causing an upset."

POINT MADE: Harlow Town in action at Soham on Saturday

Hawks start off by making point

HARLOW Town claimed a solid point when they drew 1-1 at Soham Town Rangers in their opening Ryman League division one north game.

Soham started brightly in Saturday's clash and were denied a goal in the 13th minute.

A 20-yard Buster Harradine shot was tipped round a post by Hawks keeper Danny Knowles.

The hosts went ahead in the 44th minute when Luke Stanley converted a cross from the right.

The Hawks equalised on the hour mark.

A Shane Stamp free-kick from the left was turned in by Alex Read from six yards.

Hawks boss Danny Chapman said: "We did not start well. But we could have got two or three goals in the last part of the first half. The game could easily have finished 5-5. It was a fair result and I was pleased to get a draw there as I think Soham Town will be there or thereabouts at the end of the season."

Chapman hopes to bring in a central defender today (Thursday).

The Harlow boss would not name the player but said he is currently at a fellow Ryman division one north club. HARLOW TN: Knowles, Thomas (Hart 79), Lavers, Fowler (c), Akande, Wheeler, Dadson, Gliddon (Martin 61), Read, Antoine, Stamp (McKenzie 89). Subs not used: D. Williams, May.

Osagie shows his class at World Champs

ANDREW Osagie was pleased that he had given "100 per cent" as he produced a stunning performance to claim fifth place in the 800m final at the World Athletics Championships in Moscow on Tuesday evening.

The Harlow Athletic Club member put in a brilliant final 100metres sprint and finished ahead of the world's fastest 800m runner this year, American Duane Solomon.

Considering 25-year-old Osagie, who attended school at Harlow's Burnt Mill, has combated food poisoning and a hamstring injury it was a brilliant achievement to reach the final let alone beat his best and finish fifth.

He clocked 1 minute 44.36 seconds in the race, shown live on BBC1.

He said afterwards: "I never thought the day would come when I was happy finishing fifth, it was slightly better and quicker than I expected."

"I am happy, but frustrated I couldn't get a medal. There was probably a medal available if I was in my lifetime-best shape but I wasn't. I am trying to keep my feet on the ground and keep trying despite the problems."

"You've got to work hard or you are not going to achieve what you want to achieve."

"All I did was come out here today and give 100 per cent. And that's what I did. Thanks to everyone again. All the support staff, physios, girlfriend, family, everyone. Thanks for all your support."

The race was won by Ethiopian Mohammed Oman in 1:43.1, just pipping American Nick Symonds. Djibouti's Ayanleh Souleiman took the bronze.

Osagie had qualified for the final despite finishing fourth in Sunday's semi-final.

He was the second quickest loser, but he had it all to do in the final. Midway through the race he looked out of it, but sprinted on to close the gap.

Then with 150m to go he appeared out of it again.

However, Osagie, of Northbrooks in Harlow, stormed through to finish just a second behind the winner. You have to wonder what he could have achieved had his season not been dogged by injury.

Olympic gold medal winner Paula Radcliffe paid tribute to Osagie afterwards. "He'll grow in confidence from that because he'll look at that and see what he has done on the preparation he has had - which is very little - and know that with good preparation and working hard he can go close."

"He'll also be frustrated at everything that has happened this year. He got food poisoning and a hamstring injury. So there are things that can fire him up during the winter."

Olympic champion Denise Lewis added: "He stuck to his race plan and when it was time to make an effect he was decisive, he made sure he got that extra place and can be proud tonight."

Harlow have Bark and bite

HAWKS boss Danny Chapman kept his feet on the ground when he looked ahead to his team's next two games in Ryman League division one north.

Harlow Town thrashed new boys Barkingside 8-3 at home on Tuesday but their manager expects sterner examinations against Tilbury at home on Saturday and Thurrock away on Tuesday.

Chapman said: "I know Tilbury have lost both their opening games but they can throw up strange results. I still think they will be around the play-offs come the end of the season."

"Thurrock have just come down and will be determined to put things right."

The Hawks went ahead in the ninth minute against Barkingside. A Jordan Fowler corner was headed in by Michael Akande off the crossbar.

Barkingside equalised four minutes later. Christian Wheeler was adjudged to have handled the ball in the box and Paul Kavanagh converted the penalty.

Toran Senehoo nodded a corner against a Harlow post on 27 minutes before Harlow scored twice on 35 and 38 minutes. Shane Stamp tapped home before Alex Read fired in a crisp 18-yard shot.

Three minutes after the break, Harlow went 4-1 up. A Read shot was blocked by visitors' keeper Dan Mulrooney before Junior Dadson turned in the rebound.

Barkingside got their second goal on 61 minutes when the unmarked Mark Doyle shot home.

Harlow then went 5-2 up on 68 minutes when Dadson calmly finished for his second. Read completed a brace with a clinical finish on 71 minutes and Harlow's seventh came on 74 minutes from sub Robbie Martin's shot.

On 85 minutes, Barkingside got a third goal from an Andy Edmunds shot. Then in injury-time Hawks substitute Chinedu McKenzie fired in a superb goal to complete the rout.

HARLOW TN: Knowles, Akande (Hart 63), Lavers, Fowler (c), Curley, Wheeler, Dadson, Gliddon, Read (McKenzie 75), Antoine, Stamp (Martin 65). Subs not used: May, Thomas.
